

I'm Just as Guilty

(As the One Who Drove the Nails)

Mike Owens and Randy Fowler

arr. Richard Gardner

♩ = 90

1. May-be I nev-er shout-ed, "If You're the Christ, come down!"
2. Some-one saw a man called Ju-das with lots of sil-ver in his hand.

And it was-n't me that twist-ed those old thorns in-to a crown.
Some-one heard a man named Pe-ter say, "I do not know that man!"

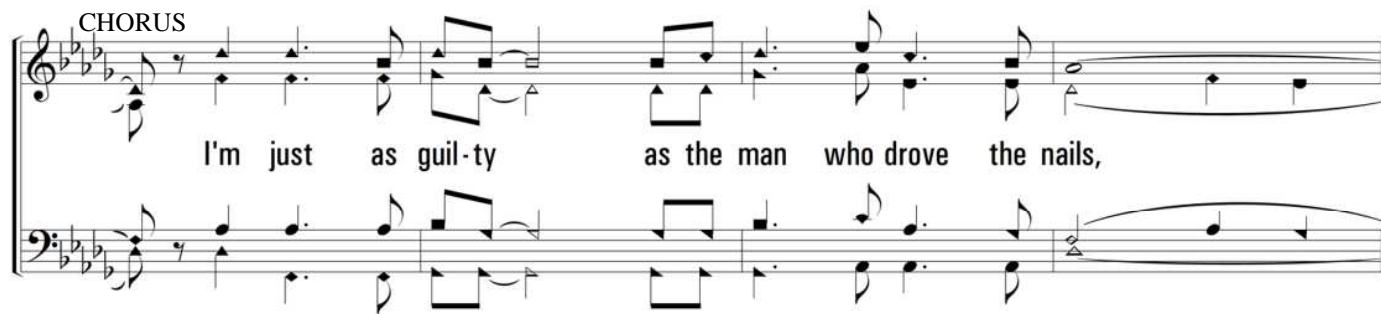

And I did-n't hear Him whis-per that prayer for me and you:
All I heard was one thief beg-gin', "Lord, please re-mem-ber me."

---- Fath-er, please for-give them for they know not what they do."
As I stood there in the dark-ness and His blood fell at my feet.

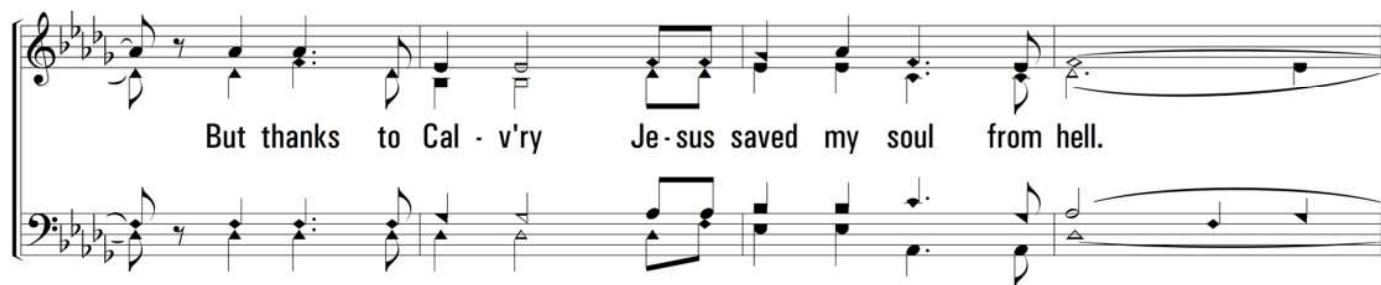

Lyrics and music: Mike Owens and Randy Fowler; arr. by Richard Gardner
Copyright © 2018 by Mike Owens and Randy Fowler

I'm Just as Guilty (cont'd)

CHORUS

I'm just as guilty as the man who drove the nails,

But thanks to Cal - v'ry Je - sus saved my soul from hell.

His grace and mer - cy tells my soul that all is well,

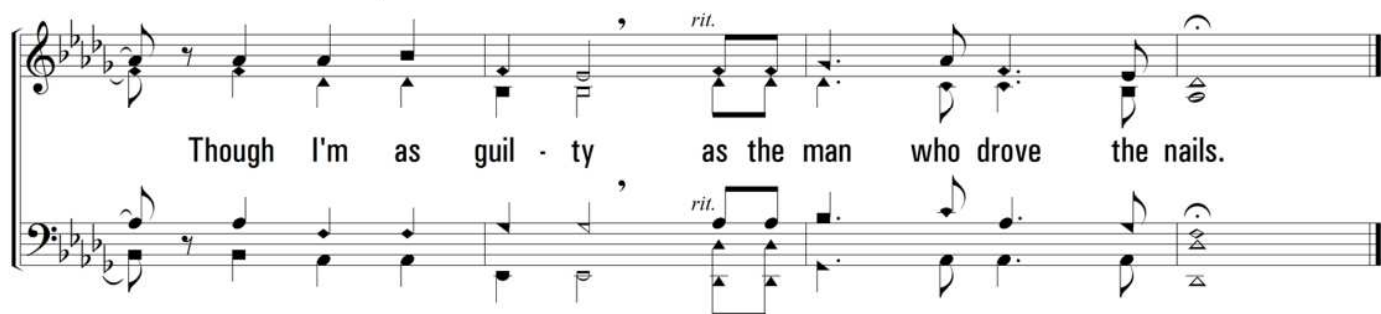

Though I'm as guilty as the man who drove the nails.

AFTER LAST VERSE

His grace and mer - cy tells my soul that all is well,

Though I'm as guilty as the man who drove the nails.